Preserved flowers and foliage are natural flowers and greens that have been processed with a revolutionary technology to maintain their fresh appearance for several months or even years. Their soft texture and delicate beauty make it difficult to differentiate between Florever and fresh flowers. They are ideal for gifts, wedding bouquets, interior decoration and even accessories.

Florever offers a wide variety of flowers, sizes and colors. Our product range includes roses, carnations, gardenias, chrysanthemums, orchids, hydrangeas, calla lilies and foliage. With more than 40 colors, nine rose sizes and 700 product references, designers can create arrangements to fit all tastes and budgets.

The preservation process enables us to achieve high-quality, reasonably priced products while respecting the environment. Quality control begins in the fields by cultivating flowers on dedicated farms. Flowers are carefully grown under ideal conditions to meet size and quality standards.

We believe that by caring for our environment, we can cultivate the most beautiful flowers. Under the policy of "healthy soil for a healthy planet", both used and rain water are recycled in the farms and factory. Further, flowers are recycled to make compost. Florever is produced using harmless colorants commonly used in food or toy manufacturing.

The Florever House is an interactive center for orphans that offers educational programs and opportunities to learn important skills. The facility, located in Colombia, hosts study rooms, a computer room and a bakery. Thanks to the support of flower designers, Florever organizes various charity events to raise funds to update equipment and facilities for the house.
Completion Process of Preserved Flowers:

Cultivation & Harvesting
Many of the fresh flowers are carefully grown on a special farm around the factory dedicated for the preserved flowers of Florever. Thanks to its unique geography and natural environment like an everlasting all-year-round spring and the day-night temperature differences produced by the attitude, the flowers are cultivated carefully, making it an ideal location to source and preservation processing our premium quality flowers.

Sorting & Processing
Before starting the preservation process, we go through various checklist items such as size, freshness, shape and so on, and select the flowers that meet the standard. We use the same solutions and colorants as those used in food, medical and textile manufacturing for keeping our health and environment in mind.

Quality Control & Packing
After treatment, the flowers are inspected one by one again to see if it meets the determined quality requirements, and use a ruler to verify that its size is within the standard, and then they are boxed. Before starting the preservation process, there is a stage for selecting the fresh flowers; however, at each of the subsequent stages, inspection is performed according to certain criteria such as color and size, and only suitable flowers are finally boxed.

Shipping
Once preparations are completed, ready products are loaded onto trucks and transported to the port. They are loaded onto ships at a port in Colombia and depart for Japan about 14,300km away. After arriving in Japan, the products are stored temporary in a warehouse and shipped to the customers.
Red colors that convey passion

Vivid red gives us power and energy. These colors could be used for 2020 as a color that strongly supports new eras, and as a color that express the liveliness of sporting events. “Red”, which is the standard color of flowers, greatly changes the image depending on the color scheme. You can re-explore the deep and wide charm of the color red. The color scheme is warm with red, pink, orange, etc., and use colors close to red like dark red or brown as accents. Also, you can compose an image that creates pop patterns, and use glossy materials or the opposite colors of blue and purple as accents.

Light colors that we can feel like that wrapped in serenity

Soft-colored pottery, fluffy blankets, natural wood...gentle and pale colors. As things around us change rapidly, we demand peace in our everyday life. This group is a color scheme that focuses on calm and gentle colors that gently snuggle into a pleasant lifestyle. These pale grayish colors bring a feeling of calmness. The key is to combine slightly different whites with each other, and bring out the depth of the white and create an overall “whitish” impression.

The keywords of this collection are “Relaxing color and Exciting color”.

In the last few years, there have been many moments in which things that have been hidden have surfaced such as a movement to declare “NO” to the fact that old-fashioned customs have been a problem in various industries and have been forced to be acquiesced. Moving towards 2020, the momentum to scrutinize and “purify” such problems is likely to increase in order to create a new era. In addition, because there are many environment concerns such as natural disasters and marine pollution caused by plastic waste, the feeling of wanting to be surrounded by a secure feeling and peace of mind in daily life is likely to grow.

Tones of big events are upcoming in Japan, at the head of those is the Tokyo Olympics. It is the ultimate battle between the spirit and body of the athletes, and the energy of the people who support them. Along with the excitement of both sides, expectations and elation that will enter a new era will also increase. When various things change in order to create a beautiful future in 2019-2020, we need colors that heal an anxious heart and give us strength power. We suggest “relaxing colors and exciting colors” in response to such era by categorizing into four groups.

Variations of blue that promotes purification

Life on earth is said to have been born from water. When you immerse yourself in the water, calming its mind when it leaves itself to the fluctuation, and it feels as if through both the mind and body become clean. Blue, also known as the representative color of water, moisturizes the mind that has been heated up in daily work, and gives us calmness and a sensation of coolness. Like water changing its expression every moment, combining various blues express the “blue world”. If you add a sparkling material such as glass or metal that reminds you of the water surface, or add a small amount of color such as red, pink or orange as an accent, the blue stands out even more. It’s also a good idea to create a blue gradient that simulates the flow of water.

Greens that express the depth of nature

Green leaves with sunshine, deep greens of moss, bright greens like young leaves that sprouted...there are various greens in nature. Now that there is a concern about the collapse of natural environment, green is important as a color that evokes ecology. More attention has also been focused on artificial expressions that make you feel the brightness, such as the color of planet cells that are visible through a microspore and the color of cultured bacteria. Matching it with black bring out the modern impression.
